

Projects promoted

At IRSIG-CNR, empirical research projects are the key tool to improve the knowledge of the functioning justice systems and the understanding of their dynamics of innovation and change. The research methods used are mainly empirical and comparative, with an interdisciplinary approach, which involves the intertwining of different fields of knowledge such as law, organisational theory, political science, management, information and communication technology, public policy analysis, sociology, and social psychology.

Co-funded projects

- Towards European Caseflow Management development network (Programma EC Civil Justice) - 2014 /2016
- e-Justice Communication via Online Data Exchange - e-CODEX (Programma EC ICT PSP) - 2010/2015
- Cyberjustice (Progetto canadese CRDP, Université de Montréal, Conseil de Recherches) - 2011/2015
- Building Interoperability for European Civil Proceedings Online (EC Civil Justice Programme) - 2010/2012
- European Arrest Warrant in Law and in Practice (EC Criminal Justice Programme) - 2007/2009
- ICT for the Public Prosecutor's Office ICT4PPO (EC Agis Programme) - 2005/2007
- ICT for justice - Astrea (FIRB MiUR Project) - 2002/2006
- Quality in Judicial Systems: Policies, Outcomes, and Institutional Setting (FIRB MiUR Project) - 2002/2006

- Electronic Filing and Judicial Electronic Data Interchange in Europe: Applications, Policies and Trends (FIRB MiUR Project) - 2003/2005
- Victim-offender mediation: organization and practice in the juvenile justice systems (EC Grotius Programme) - 2002/2004
- Judicial electronic data interchange in Europe JEDI (EC Grotius Programme) - 2001/2003
- The administration of justice in Europe and the assessment of its quality (EC Grotius Programme) - 2002/2003
- Methods for Public Policies Analysis of Strategic Importance (Progetto FISR MiUR) - 2000/2005
- The application of criminal mediation in Italy (Progetto FISR MiUR) - 2000/2003
- European seminar on court technology ESCT (EC Grotius Programme) - 1999/2000

Self-funded projects

- Judicial personnel policies in continental Europe
- Governance of judicial systems in European countries

- Analysis of disciplinary decisions of the Italian Judicial Council and of other disciplinary systems
- Judicial reforms in Italy
- Comparative analysis of the role of public prosecutor
- Customer satisfaction in Courts
- First study of surveillance magistracy system
- Clerks office organization in Public Prosecutor's Office
- Juvenile criminal proceedings and probation in Italy
- Judicial interviews with juveniles victims and witnesses
- Social and professional profiles of lay judges in juvenile proceedings