

Structure of research activity

The research activity of the Institute is organized in research fields, within which there are several research lines.

In particular the research fields are organised in three areas:

- Governance of judicial systems
- Organization, innovation and justice
- Quality and assesment of justice systems

Projects Area n°8 of the CNR "

The research fields are included in the Department of Human and Social Sciences and Cultural Heritage

Department

" called:

Law, Technology and Judicial Organization

□ □ □ The research fields in short: